Champions

Rule 23

The Divisional Champions shall be decided as follows:-

- (B) If there are two Groups, there will be a cross playoff. The winner of Group 1 will play the runner-up of Group 2 and vice-versa. If there are co-winners in any group a draw will be conducted by the LMC before the semi-finals to determine which team will play the winner of the other group and which team will play the runner-up of the other group. The winners of these semi-final playoff matches will then play in the final to determine the Divisional Champion. There will be no playoff for third and fourth places.
- (C) If there are three Groups, the winner of each Group and the first runner-up with the best winning percentage will advance to the playoff. Subject to Rule 22(F), the winning percentage will be calculated according to the following formula:-

$$\frac{\text{Sets Won}}{\text{Total Scheduled Sets}} \times 100\%$$

A draw will be conducted by the LMC before the semi-finals to determine position of teams in the draw. Winners of these semi-final play-off matches will, at a time and place to be determined by the LMC, play in the final to determine the Divisional Champion. There will be no play-off for third and fourth places.

- (D) If there are four Groups, the winner of each group will advance to the playoff. The playoff will adopt a knock-out format and the two semi-finals will be held on the same day. A draw will be conducted by LMC before the semi-finals to determine team positions in the draw. Winners of these semi-final playoff matches will, at a time and place to be determined by the LMC, play in the final to determine the Divisional Champion. There will be no playoff for third and fourth places.
- (E) If there are more than four Groups in a Division, the LMC will decide on a playoff format and notify all contesting teams of its decision within 3 weeks after the commencement of the League season.

Rule 24

League matches, the team that wins the higher total number of sets in the two matches between them shall be the champion. If there is a tie in the total number of sets won, the team that wins the higher total number of games in the two matches between them shall be the champion. If there is a tie in the total number of games won, both teams will be declared as the co-champion.

If there is a tie in League points won by 3 or more teams, the team that has the highest winning percentage of the matches played among the relevant teams shall be the champion. The winning percentage will be calculated according to the formula mentioned in Rule 23(C). Should there still be a tie after calculation of the winning percentage, the winner of the League match between the two relevant teams shall be the champion. The rules in this sub-clause will be similarly applied to determine the runner-up of the Division.

(B) Similarly, with more than one Group, if there is a tie in League points won by two teams in one Group, the winner of the League match between those two teams is the Group winner. In cases where two rounds of round-robin matches have been played, if there is a tie in League points won by two teams and each team wins once in their two head to head League matches, the team that wins the higher total number of sets in the two matches between them shall be the Group winner. If there is a tie in the total number of sets won, the team that wins the higher total number of games in the two matches between them shall be the Group winner. If there is a tie in the total number of games won, both teams will be declared as the co-winner.

If there is a tie in League points won by 3 or more teams, the team that has the highest winning percentage of the matches played among the relevant teams shall be the Group winner. The winning percentage will be calculated according to the formula mentioned in Rule 23(C). Should there still be a tie after calculation of the winning percentage, the winner of the League match between the two relevant teams shall be the Group winner. The rules in this sub-clause will be similarly applied to determine the runner-up of the Group.

Rule 25

All playoff matches shall be played at a venue and on a date to be decided by the LMC. If for whatever reason a playoff match cannot be completed within the designated period of a League season, e.g. due to repeated delays because of inclement weather or unavailability of venue, the LMC reserves the right to declare all the teams remaining in the playoff as joint-winners.

Rule 26

If the venue of any playoff match is provided by either one of the playoff teams, the Home Team will switch courts in the following manner:-

2nd Round	C1	vs	A2	A1	vs	B2	B1	vs	C2
3rd Round	B1	vs	A2	C1	vs	B2	A1	vs	C2
